

For the last 15 years, the Digital Council Africa has been at the heart of the continent's digital transformation journey — creating connection, fostering collaboration, and shaping the future of infrastructure.

From terrestrial fibre networks and submarine cable systems to data centres, cloud computing, tower infrastructure, and the ever-evolving platform economy, we bring together the people and the sectors driving Africa's digital future. Our community of members forms the backbone of this work — sharing insights, building partnerships, and helping unlock meaningful digital progress across the continent.

Why Become a Member?

Shape the Digital Future of Africa
